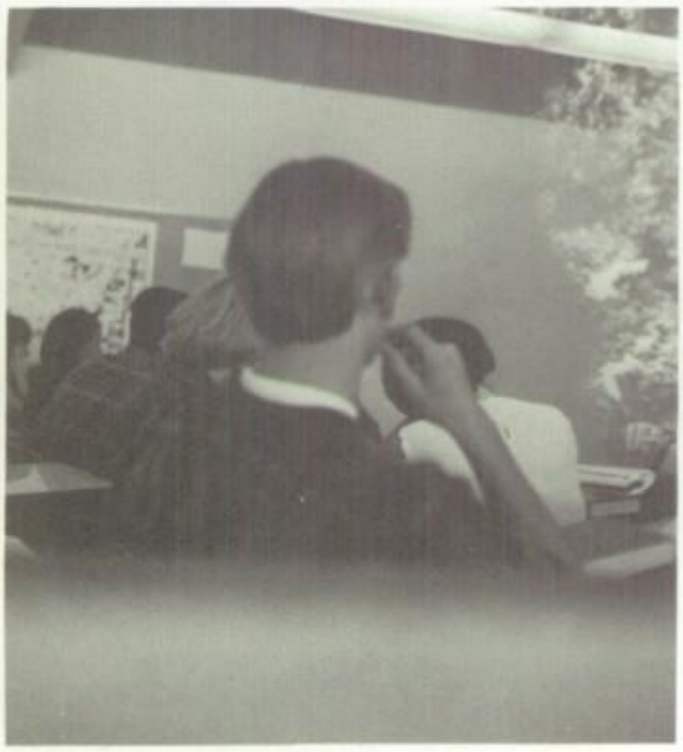
Reflections

A reflection is an image whether good or bad. Our lives are reflections. We must strive to perfect that reflection so that we may see the better things life holds for us. Rambling in aimless circles that lead to nowhere accomplishes nothing.



High school years are the shortest years of your life. During the transitional period between adolescence and adulthood, the student discovers himself, his abilities, and what the future holds for him. Perfection of one's reflection should be the goal of every student.

You will reflect upon the past year as you enjoy flashes of people, and as events unfold in this chronicle of our travel through 1967-68. It is to be hoped that for one and all, such reflections will be pleasurable and rewarding in feelings of satisfaction at being a part of the work and play of the year past; because, as known to you all, these reflections light 1968-69 and all of the years to come.

The friends you have made, the values gained or adjusted, the health you have developed and learned to foster, the knowledge you have sampled and added will all illuminate and thereby have their effect upon tomorrow. Determine today, that whatever last year's reflections may have been, now is the time for developing good, clear, sharp, and bright reflections for tomorrow.

Robert W. Charman

From the Principal's and Editor's Pens

The STAFF of the 1968 ODYSSEY hopes that you, the students of Salome High School, will enjoy this annual to the very fullest. The action of the past year has been caught, and we hope the many happy times will remain reflected in your minds. My thanks to the STAFF, MISS GALLARDO, and to all of you who got caught by THE CAMERA.

Senior Class Will and Prophecy

I, CHARLOTTE TRENHOLM, will my interest in cars to anyone who wants an interest.
I, SHIRLEY LISTER, being of sound mine and body, will my ability not to complain when others talk to Mrs. Fansler.
I, JUDY HUNTER, will my ability to get caught at passing notes in Family Relations to Sharon Mork and Laura Stein.
I, ALVA BLAIR, being of sound mind and body (that's debatable), will my sense of humor to anyone who is unfortunate enough not to have one.
I, JEAN CHARMAN, will my ability to be nervous when taking tests to anyone who's crazy enough.
I, CLARA COWELL, will my ability to flunk History to anyone who thinks he or she is too smart to flunk.
I, CHARMAINE MIXON, will my ability to stay out of fights to John Gray, and my hair piece to Steve Faucher in case he decides to shave his head again.
I, PATSY JOY, being of sound mind and body, will to Bob Cassoday all the good luck and happiness that have been mine during my high school days.

Clara, an up-coming young secretary
Has been striving to keep up the good work.
But now as we see her in leisure
She is attempting to finish writing her book.

The plans for Alva in the future
Contained being a poet or a writer.
Somehow, though, her plans fell through
For she is currently a reknown bull fighter.

Ella Mae, in her plans for the future
Held being an Airline Stewardess as one.
She should have made plans for puppets
For a designer of them she has become.

"Pat, the highest paid Data Processor,"
Had a desire to fulfill this wish.
But now spends all her available time
Working as a free-lance cartoonist.

Charmaine, full of hope and promise
Of becoming a famous beautician,
Gave up hope many long years ago
And became, instead, an electrician.

A Flight Engineer was Allen's desire
And one we all thought he deserved.
But the Navy must have had other thoughts
As they kept him in Naval Reserve.

Shirley proudly announced that she would be
A highly paid receptionist.
But Shirley now keeps a tidy home
And is a recipe-exchange specialist.

"I'll be an Agronomist after College."
Was an idea that Bert had one day.
But the idea must have been a short one
For he now sands surf boards for pay.

The future foretold us that Les
Would be a Doctor of Psychology.
But as things often go astray
He now majors in Geology.

Doug said he was going to be
A great Park Service Manager.
But now the Red Cross has him bound
By being their Red Cross Bandager.

"Chuck will be an Auto Mechanic,"
Is what the crystal ball foretold.
But now we see Chuck as a Salesman
Swashbuckling, daring, and bold.

Judy, while striving for her goal
Of being a good P.E. teacher,
Is working now at a steady job
Of being a Sunday School teacher.

The future we saw for Charlotte
As a secretary was indeed quite fair,
For you see, our sweet Charlotte
Has married a Texas millionaire.

Long ago when Jean told us
That she would become an Oceanographer,
We now ask her how she likes her work
Where she is a promising stenographer.

For Bill the future was very bright,
As an Auto Mechanic as a start.
But somewhere along the line
He became a Professor of Fine Art.

Buster, so glad to exclaim to all
He would be an Aeronautical Engineer,
Is working very hard and long
For Zookeeping is now his career.

Once again the publications staff has, in spite of disagreements, rushing, and making mistakes, successfully met all the deadlines in publishing what we feel to be one of the best annuals.

We, as a staff, have found out just what it takes to get the yearbook published; an event we have always taken for granted.

Jean Charman, our editor, is busy deciding just what is going to have to be done and how much we can do.

The co-editor, Shirley Lister, is helping to get things under way.

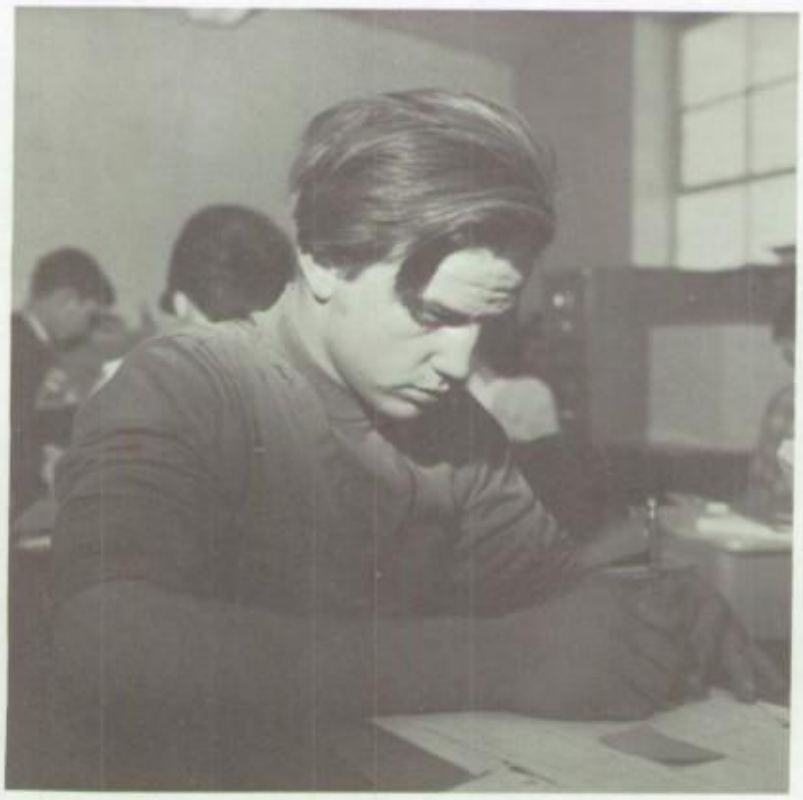
One of the harder decisions is trying to pick out the best pictures to use. Clara Cowell is having quite a time.

After the pictures have been chosen they must then be cropped as we see Bettie doing.

Charlotte Trenholm is also cropping pictures.

Now the pictures must be put on a dummy sheet and fit into place. Bill Havely finds that one of the pictures just doesn't seem to fit.

Ronnie Lawson is having a hard time fitting his together.



Well, now we must get the copy typed. John Foster is typing the copy on a practice sheet.

It looks as if Judy Hunter is being sure her copy sheet is in straight before typing her copy.

Oops, Ronnie Dearinger has made another mistake on his copy sheet.

A lot of people are working on copy sheets. Laura Stein has decided it is quite a job.

Occasionally a few things have to be drawn in India ink. It looks as if Jim Pettigrew got stuck with it this time.

Alva Blair, is pictured here, carefully doing the final copy.

All of these things lead to a rewarding annual signing party.
